

Just a quick example of things that can be done on web page - for example having two banners - one down each side, and we can make them match any web page colour scheme (gold in this case)

